

Amendments to the Claims:

Applicant lists below the claims as originally presented in the Preliminary Amendment filed on February 20, 2004. Applicant canceled original claims 1-23 in that Preliminary Amendment. Therefore, applicant respectfully requests that the Examiner withdraw his Office Action dated November 9, 2007, based on his rejection of Claims 1-23 and reexamine this application based on the claims below.

Listing of Claims:

1-23. (Canceled)

24. (Original) A method for transmitting an electronic mail address in a networked computer environment, comprising the steps of:

furnishing an electronic mail address in a first language; converting said electronic mail address in a first language to an electronic mail address in a second language; and transmitting said electronic mail address in a second language over a computer network; wherein said first language is different than said second language.

25. (Original) A computer system providing the transmission of an electronic mail address over a computer network, said computer system comprising:

a provision means operating on said computer system, for furnishing an electronic mail address in a first language;

a conversion means operating on said computer system for converting said electronic mail address in a first language to an electronic mail address in a second language; wherein said electronic mail address in a second language is transmitted over said computer network; and wherein said first language is different than said second language.

26. (Original) A method of converting a non-Latin electronic mail address to a conventional electronic mail address in a computer system, said method comprising the steps of: receiving a non-Latin electronic mail address; and converting said non-Latin electronic mail address to a conventional electronic mail address, wherein said non-Latin electronic mail address is in a different language than said conventional electronic mail address.